

WORKSHOP: Applying mixed methods: Studying work in Asia

14th June, 2016

Venue: GIGA, Hamburg (Neuer Jungfernstieg 21, Room 519)

- 9:00-9:45 Prof. Wendy Olsen (University of Manchester): Marital Negotiations of Time and Work in Rural India & Bangladesh
- 09:45-10:30 Punita Chowbey (Hallam University Sheffield): Working in fragile contexts: Employment, masculinities and domestic violence in narratives of Pakistani women in Pakistan and Britain
- 10:30-10:45 Coffee break
- 10:45–11:30 Prof. Amaresh Dubey (JNU, Delhi): Women's work in India: Socio-cultural Aspects
- 11:30-12:15 Dr. Jörg Nowak (Universität Kassel): Studying strikes in the automobile industry in India: Strikes at Maruti Suzuki (2011-2012) and Bajaj Auto (2013)
- 12:15–13:30 Lunch break
- 13:30–14:15 Dr. Jagriti Tanwar (University of Uppsala): Skills Challenge in India
- 14:15-15:00 Lucia da Corta (University of Bath) Reflections on methods to understand processes of extreme pauperisation in Bangladesh through life history research
- 15:00-15:15 Coffee break
- 15:15–16:00 Garima Singh (TATA Institute of Social Sciences / Universität Kassel): Private placement agencies and their role among non standard workers in India: through the lens of decent work
- 16:00-16:45 Francis Yoon (FU Berlin): Labour Market Dualisation: A Case Study of Firms' Nonstandard Employment Strategies in Korea